Asset Allocation

Portfolio Manager(s) Comment

Inflation fears pushed asset prices lower for the month. While the CBOE VIX volatility index is easing from its February highs far above its long-term average of 20, investors are now starting to pay attention to the tendency for volatility to accelerate to a greater extent relative to the decline in equity prices. Developed market equity delivered -4.30% in dollar terms and -4.87% in rand, as the market expects the Fed to step up the pace of its interest rate increases this year. Emerging markets were equally impacted, delivering -4.73% in dollar terms and -5.30% in rand terms. The latest rise in developed market bond yields resulted in the JP Morgan Global Aggregate delivering -0.97% in dollar terms and -1.55% in rand terms as the US 10-year treasury yield pushed closer to 3%. Also, the JP Morgan EM Bond index followed its developed market counterpart lower for the month delivering -2.23% in dollar terms and -2.80% in rand terms. Furthermore, higher bond yields resulted in Developed Market Property delivering -6.65% in dollar terms and -7.20% in rand terms.

South Africa's 2018 budget seemed to please investors. The ascendance of Cyril Ramaphosa to the presidency buoyed sentiment, and the rand relative to the dollar rallied 0.59% to a three-year high and bond yields fell to a level last seen more than two years ago. Critically, a sales tax increase and sizable spending cuts have reduced the risk of a Moody's downgrade to junk. However, the budget statement was a telling reminder of the significant challenges faced by the new leadership of the ruling ANC. The local FTSE/JSE All Share Index followed global markets lower, delivering -1.97%. Naspers was down 3.30% for the month and contributed -0.62% to the equity market total return. Financials, however, benefitted from the improving sentiment and delivered 5.11%. The ALBI index delivered 3.93%, and inflation-linked bonds lagged the sovereign counterparts, delivering 1.30%. Local cash delivered 0.54%. The listed property market has had a rocky start to 2018, with February being no exception. Volatility was driven by a strengthening rand, speculation around a Viceroy research report and hedge fund managers aggressively short selling specific companies. Local property collapsed 9.90% over the month. More importantly, approximately 81% of the sector's drawdown was driven by three shares (Nepi Rockcastle, Resilient, and Fortress B) that constitute approximately 24% of the sector.

Glossary TermsAnnualised total returns

Annualised return is the weighted average compound growth rate over the period measured.

Capital growth

Capital growth is the profit made on an investment, measured by the increase in its market value over the invested amount or cost price. It is also called capital appreciation.

Fund of funds

A "fund of funds" is an investment strategy of holding a portfolio of other investment funds rather than investing directly in stocks, bonds or other securities. This type of investing is often referred to as multi-manager investment. Investing in a fund of funds may achieve greater diversification. The benefit of diversification is that it can reduce volatility and the overall risk in the portfolio, while maintaining returns.

Liquidity

The ability to easily turn assets or investments into cash.

LISP (Linked Investment Service Provider)

A Linked Investment Service Provider is a financial institution which packages, distributes and administers a broad range of unit trust based investments. Any investment made through these products gives an investor a single point of entry into a selection of different investments.

Regulation 28

Regulation 28 of the Pension Funds Act sets out prudent investment limits on certain asset classes in investment funds. It applies specifically to investments in Retirement Annuities and Preservation Funds.

The allowed maximum exposures to certain asset classes are:

75% for equities; 25% for property; 25% for foreign (offshore) assets +5% to African assets.

Total Expense Ratio (TER)

This is the total costs associated with managing and operating an investment (excluding administration, financial planning and servicing fees). These costs consist primarily of management fees and additional expenses such as trading fees, legal fees, auditor fees and other operational expenses. The total cost of the fund is divided by the fund's total assets under management to arrive at a percentage amount, which represents the TER.

Unit trusts

Unit trusts (also called a collective investment scheme) are portfolios of assets such as equities, bonds, cash and listed property, in which investors can buy units. They allow private investors to pool their money together into a single fund, thus spreading their risk across a range of investments, getting the benefit of professional fund management, and reducing their costs.
