

A growing economy comes with its challenges and only those that remain firm and creative in their respective industry thrive. The Business Post magazine engaged our CEO Mr Gitogo in an interview dubbed 'Covers for new markets', where he shared insight on the insurance industry in the Kenyan market and introduced the company's newest products