Investment Commentary

Markets receded in towards the end of November with the announcement of the onset of the omicron variant and then followed by the US Fed's updated stance on stimulus and inflation. The S&P500 Index retracted by 0.7% over the month and the MSCI World Index fell by 2.4%. Both these benchmarks have enjoyed remarkably high returns over the past twelve months and this relatively minor retracement was largely due to temporary panic, which we have seen abate so far in early December. While we are not overly fearful about omicron, and in fact are optimistic that its relatively mild symptoms could be evidential of Covid becoming less relevant - mutating itself to be more transmissible but producing less harmful pathogens - we remain concerned about the potential for outsized positive returns from equities for the year ahead.

Dynasty's selected global funds did not escape the set-back in global markets and experienced negative returns for the month, although this comes on the back of a strong October and generally very strong year-to-date and one-year returns. The performances of these funds across the risk spectrum; measured over different timeframes ended 30 November 2021; and reported in USD (net of all fees including Dynasty's advisory fee), are summarised below:

Offshore Funds	One Month as at 31 October 2021	Year to date	One Year	Three Years	Five Years
Ninety One Global Franchise Fund	-3.61%	12.91%	19.64%	15.86%	15.52%
Fundsmith Equity Fund	-0.19%	15.47%	20.41%	19.71%	19.25%
iShares World Equity Index Fund	-0.56%	17.62%	21.61%	16.06%	13.27%
iShares MSCI World Quality Factor ETF	-1.24%	19.66%	24.62%	18.67%	15.58%
Smithson Investment Trust	-2.62%	8.87%	19.89%	n/a	n/a

Please note that the Smithson Investment Trust does not have a longer - term track record

As reiterated in many of our recent communications, we remain confident in our investment approach of focusing on quality global companies that have the ability to grow regardless of economic conditions and thereby providing a hedge against inflation due to their pricing power; or alternatively where they are providing essential services with large barriers to entry. These companies' increasing dividend streams are also appealing in an environment where the return prospects on cash and bonds remain unattractive. While we do believe that the easy money has been made in global markets for the short to medium term, we feel that the above approach continues to be prudent, defensible and should lead to long-term growth.

The Fund retraced marginally by 0.7% over the month, which is relatively minor when compared to the markets. The Fund has gained 4.9% over the prior twelve months, despite the fact that the protection on a portion of the Fund has capped the returns over these periods. The Fund does not have a longer-term track period as yet.

Risk Definitions

Market Risk

Equity markets are volatile and the price of equities fluctuate based on a number of factors such as changes in the economic climate, general movements in interest rates and the political and social environment which will also affect the value of the securities held in the unit trust, thereby affecting the overall value of the unit trust.

Currency Risk / Foreign Exchange Risk

This risk is associated with investments that are denominated in foreign currencies. When the foreign currencies fluctuate against the South African Rand, the investments face currency gains or losses.

Concentration Risk

Unit Trusts pool the assets of many investors and use the proceeds to buy a portfolio of securities. There are regulations in place which limit the amount that a unit trust may invest in securities, thereby spreading the risk across securities, asset classes and companies.

Liquidity Risk

This relates to the ability of the unit trust to trade out of a security held in the portfolio at or near to its fair value. This may impact on liquidity and in the case of foreign securities, the repatriation of funds.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is where an issuer of a non-equity security may not be able to make interest payments or repay the capital. This will impact the value of the unit trust.

Inflation Risk

The risk of potential loss in the purchasing power of your investment due to a general increase of consumer prices.

Political Risk

The risk that investment returns could suffer as a result of a country's political changes or instability in the country. Instability could come from changes in the country's government, policy makers or military.

Tax Risk

This risk relates to any change to tax laws or to the interpretation of existing tax laws which has an impact on the manner in which unit trusts are taxed.

Compliance Risk

This refers to the risk of not complying with the legislation, regulations, prescribed investment limits and internal policies and procedures by the manager or the portfolio manager.
